The instrument, sited in an alcove at gallery level, is large and resourceful, although the Choir seems a bit on the quiet side.

The organ is in a fair condition and prior to building closure was maintained by Harrison & Harrison.

The church, a listed building, closed in 2009 and an application to de-list the organ is being processed. The church would like to hear from interested parties, especially those with a specific relocation in mind, in anticipation of a successful outcome to the de-listing application.

Buyer makes all arrangements for dismantling, packing and transport.

Enquiries please to the church contact below.
